HON. STITT WILSON AND BAND CONCERT TONIGHT AT BAND STAND, 7:00 SHARP

Tonight's celebration to close the War Savings Campaign will begin promptly at 7 o'clock so the exercises may be held entirely by daylight. Be prompt.

J. Stitt Wilson will be the big attraction at the band stand this evening. This great patriotic orator and thinker is so well known here that the mere announcement of his presence will probably bring a record breaking crowd. No one who heard any of his lectures last fall at our "Institute for Democracy" will want to miss him.

Band Concert

By way of entertainment and variety, the Sierra Madre band will give a concert and there will be patriotic singing under direction of Prof. Walker.

Newman Essick will preside, in itself a guarantee of plenty of pep to the program.

President Wilson has asked that June 28th be observed all over the country as the culmination of the War Savings campaign. This is our chance. Will you be there?

Seats Provided

To make the meeting place inviting, Street Supt. Udell has had the lot about the bandstand dragged and wetted down to prevent dust. Seats have been provided on the lot and special provision will be made for parking autos, traffic being shut off on the portion of Central Ave., in front of the band stand.

Winning Captain's Buttons

During the week's campaign a number of excellent workers have been developed, especially among the younger solicitors who are doing such work for the first time. There will be a dozen or more winners of "Captain's" buttons by workers who have secured twenty or more pledges. These buttons will be awarded at the exercises this evening in partial recognition of the work done.

Common Errors

Misconception of the importance of the War Savings campaign is found to exist to a lamentable extent among people supposedly well informed.

Many persons cannot seem to get away from the idea that this is merely a thrift lesson for the children instead of a two billion dollar proposition.

Some people have had the notion that War Savings Stamps were not of their caliber—they could not monkey with anything smaller than Liberty Bonds. It was a great surprise to them to find they could make a pledge to buy anything up to $1000 in War Savings Stamps.

The two billion dollars which the government expects to receive from the sale of War Savings stamps during 1918 will be just as vital as any similar sum to be raised by bonds of larger denomination. This money is absolutely counted upon for the present year's war budget and it simply must be invested by the American public. The per capita allotment of $20 for every man, woman and child in the land makes it essential that a great many of the people who are able take out "Limit" pledges for 200 War Savings stamps with a face value of $1000.

To date the number of "Limit" pledges has been disappointing in Sierra Madre. Many persons of known ability have subscribed for only small amounts or not at all.

A Busy Place

Campaign headquarters in the bank building have been very busy all week and especially in the evenings. Captains met the team members nightly, received reports, mapped out campaigns and planned for cleaning up all the territory assigned.

Overlook Main Idea

That a great many people do not get the main idea of the War Savings plan is shown by the number of persons who subscribed for stamps for immediate delivery only. The stamps were designed as a convenient means of laying up for Uncle Sam's use money which can be saved out of the year's income and ordinary outlay by cutting out nonessentials. It is argued that most people who can buy one or more stamps now will be able to buy more at some time before the year is up. But a surprising number have simply ordered one or more stamps for delivery at once, without giving any apparent thought to their probable ability to take more before the end of the year.

TRIES TO COMPROMISE DISLOYALTY CHARGE

Legendre Offers to Make Partial Plea but is Held Under Increased Bond

Times—L. N. Legendre, artist residing in Sierra Madre, was not permitted to plead guilty in Federal Judge Bledsoe's court on Monday to the charge of disloyalty because he declared he was "technically" and not "morally" guilty. He offered to plead guilty to saying that "America had suffered a damned bad defeat with the visit here of the German U-boats" but denied making other statements attributed to him.

On the strength of his "semi-plea" Judge Bledsoe raised his bond to $10,000 and he was committed to the county jail.

In calling attention to Legendre's alleged seditious remarks Assist. United States Attorney Young described him as having "Bolshevik tendencies."

Legendre denied he has pro-German sympathies. He was held for trial for the July calendar.

STORE HALF-HOLIDAYS DURING THE SUMMER

Following the summer custom, most of the Sierra Madre business houses will observe one half-holiday each week during July and August. The two groceries and markets will close on Thursday afternoons, being unable to take the same day as the other stores on account of the Saturday marketing requirements. The holidays will be observed as follows:

Saturday Afternoons—

EDITORS CONGREGATE ON MAGIC ISLE

Annual Summer Outing of the Southern California Scribes Is Enjoyable Event

"We and our wife" spent an enjoyable week end at Avalon on Catalina, the "Magic Isle," in company with 125 members of the Southern California Editorial Association and families. It was a delightful outing at a delightful spot.

It was nearly ten years since the writer had last made the trip to Catalina and some important and highly interesting changes have taken place in that time. First of these changes to come to view are at Los Angeles harbor. The great docks and warehouses of the city's harbor system and completion of the great breakwater have been recorded in that period.

More striking, however, is the evidence that we are at war. On both sides of the harbor are the great shipbuilding plants where titanic efforts are under way to beat the Hun in the race for supremacy on the water. As we steamed down the channel to the outer harbor we pass half a mile or more of water front occupied by the Naval base, with thousands of Jacks at work or at drill. High up on the hill can be seen the Upper Reservation of Fort McArthur where the harbor defenses are hidden.

Lying in the outer harbor are two or three big ocean going vessels that look like they had been subjected to the nightmare of some Futurist painter. That camouflage business is just as grotesque as the magazine pictures make it appear.

"Submarine ahead" shouts a watcher at the bow.

Sure enough, there is a periscope emerging from the water, but there is no terror inevidence such as might be imagined on other waters. As we pass the craft is on the surface, with bits of wet kelp hanging to the short masts.

Two hours and a half on the steamer—about the same distance as crossing from England to France, but what a difference!

Why should anyone be seasick on a smooth, short journey like that? An old ship's physician says there is one sure preventive—merely deep and regular breathing, deeper than usual, seasickness being due to involuntary disturbance of the diaphragm and the consequent derangement of the digestive apparatus just beneath it. Sorry we did not hear of the theory before hand—it would have been so nice to have been able to demonstrate a workable theory in a company where so many were affected.

The Island Villa

The Island Villa where the scribes were quartered is a model of what a tent city ought to be—clean, cosy, shade trees all about, comfortable furnishings in the tents and out, room service on a par with that of a good hotel, and a general air of courtesy and efficiency. For those who prefer tents with house-keeping equipment there is the Canvass City in the next block. Both resorts are only a few steps from the shore of that beautiful little crescent bay. You can put on your bathing suit in your tent, enjoy your plunge in the clear ocean water and enjoy the shower accommodations at the Island Villa on your return.

New Hotel Opens

This week the beautiful new Hotel St. Catherine will open to the public. It is located on the site of the old Banning home,

LEARNING TO BE AN ARTFUL DODGER

Lieut. Camp Describes Sensations When the Hun Shells Come Quite Close

All's well. Received a stack of letters six inches high yesterday and it took all afternoon and a part of the night to read them. It was about as pleasant an evening as I've ever had.

Your package containing medical supplies just arrived, also box of Durham. The latter is almost a necessity and hard to get so what you send gets good use. I turned over the box of vaseline and cotton to our M. D., as he was all out of the former—he uses it to mix up "cootie" paste.

Everybody has to travel light, including the sanitary corps. The only instrument the dentist has now is a pair of forceps. His simple and direct means of curing all tooth ills is to get the patient down under his knee and give a few stiff pulls. I never ing all tooth ills is to get the set of chewers.

Fresh Air at a Premium

It gets monotonous living underground all the time. No one ever goes out unless he has to of course, and whenever one does go out he usually finds some urgent reason for coming quickly back, piling down stairs like a prairie dog into his borrow.

Good Dodging

Yesterday I had to go for a "walk" of seven or eight kilometers along the battery positions. About noon I was over where one of the Majors stays and some shells came a little too close for comfort. Fragments whistled past in every direction and you could feel the "heat" of the thing. I got behind a tree and waited. In a few seconds four more came, closer this time. Pieces of the tree fell around me and a chunk of "Mrs. Krupp's birthday cake" grazed my helmet and went into the ground beside me. The next volley certainly had me dodging around the tree and getting more and more of that funny feeling in the chest. I made a dive for the Major's dugout and found him at lunch. He asked me if I'd had any breakfast and I said "Yes, but I'm just about to lose it."

In the afternoon another fragment of a "barrack bag" went through between my leg and my stomach as I squatted to get below the burst. You see if you lie down or get low your chances of getting hit are pretty slim. But if you remain standing you are likely to get it in the neck. We used to think we were braver than the French because we stood still while they ducked but now that we know the reason why, we also crouch when they come close.

The country is full of chalk and in it are some old types of sea urchins petrified in solid flint. They are pretty things and the French people think they were shooting stars. I got some good ones out of a shell crater the other day and found some more in an old chalk mine.

Had a "possibility" of going home as instructor but refused. Should not want to leave here now and do not think the probable service warrants the call. There are plenty of "instructors" who know as little as I do about the war.

After some more experience I'd like to go back for a few weeks—things must be a lot different at home now. We've had such a varied and interesting time here that the seven or eight months we have been away doesn't seem like more than that many weeks to some of us.

This is "Mother's Day." I saw

NEW PUMP OUTFIT NEARING COMPLETION

Water Will be Pumped from City Well No. 2 Within a Few Days

Installation of the new pump equipment at city well No. 2 was reported about 50 per cent completed by Water Supt. Biederman, at last night's meeting of the city trustees.

On that showing and the recommendation of Chairman Holabird of the water committee, the trustees voted to issue a warrant in payment of the May installment which had been held up pending some signs of action on the part of the contractors.

Mr. Biederman estimated that water could be pumped within a few days, which will relieve the strain of keeping up with the demands by means of well No. 1 and the old pumps.

To Safeguard Water

Hiring of a special patrol for the Little Santa Anita canyon above the Quarter Way on Saturday afternoons and Sundays at a cost of $4 weekly was authorized at the request of Forest Supervisor Charlton. He said Chester Huston, who is hired jointly by the city and forest service, is needed on the lower patrol, leaving a much used district without protection as to fire or stream pollution.

Need for the action was shown by the report from the state health department on samples of water taken from the various local sources of supply. That from the Quarter Way line was shown to be polluted to an objectionable degree. Trustee Holabird said that, being unable to use a shotgun on people who pollute the stream, he believed the most summary and vigorous prosecution ought to be carried out.

Watchman Appointed

City Marshal Udell reported the appointment of Chas. M. Kellogg as deputy marshal for the night job. The appointment was confirmed.

Library Trustees

Chairman Mitchell announced the appointment of Mrs. Isabelle Pierce and Mrs. Maggie Steinberger to succeed themselves as members of the board of Library Trustees, the appointments being confirmed by the board.

It's a Good Habit

Having transacted a variety of routine business and discussion, the board adjourned at the very reasonable hour of nine o'clock.

WHERE TO MAKE RED CROSS PAYMENTS

Persons wishing to make payments on Second Red Cross War Fund pledges may make them in the room adjoining the bank, where the campaign headquarters were maintained, on any Thursday afternoon or on the first and last days of each month. Payments may be made at any other time to Mr. F. H. Hartman, at the Sierra Madre Pharmacy.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Young entertained Privates Thompson and Grower of the Arcadia Balloon School at dinner last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Sullivan left last Saturday to make their home in Santa Ana.

SEVENTEEN ARE GIVEN THEIR DIPLOMAS

Seventeen pupils were graduated from the Sierra Madre public school at the exercises in the club house last night.

Rev. C. C. Wilson delivered a stirring address to the class and the audience which packed the club house. The diplomas were presented to the graduates by Principal Keith M. Walker. Mrs. Snell, secretary of the school board, welcomed the class on behalf of the public.

In language and terms calculated to hold the attention of active young minds, Mr. Wilson likened the life journey ahead of the class to an automobile.

"You must first choose the road you plan to travel," he said. "Then your guide book and then read the signs along the way to see that you keep on the right road." The chassis of the auto was likened to the health of the graduate, the gasoline the information they had gathered in the last nine years. Every time they do anything to excess it is like putting sand into the gears of the machine. He compared some students to the high powered racing car, as being too busy to help others, and others as being too small to be useful in life.

The graduates are as follows:

Katherine Louise Archer.
Marjorie May Bleecker.
Edwin B. Boyd.
Wayne James Bradford.
Emma Marie Broden.
Abbie Coplan.
Marguerite Fern DeTemple.
Margaret Irma Elsner.
Harold Joseph Hornung.
Catherine Isabella Maull.
Hercel Glenn Nix.

LEONARD C. TUCKER SUFFERS BAD INJURY

Broken Back Sustained in Cave-in of Dugout of Camp Fremont

Leonard C. Tucker had a narrow escape from death and suffered a broken back in the cave-in of a practice dugout on which he was working at Camp Fremont last week.

At last reports his condition was as favorable as could be expected, but a back broken in two places leaves little hope.

Miss Eleanor Tucker, his sister left Wednesday for the north in order to be near him. At last reports no paralysis had set in and he has even been able to use his arms sufficiently to write a note home.

Tucker had been at Camp Fremont only a few months. He enlisted in the 319th Engineers and was assigned to Co. A in which he had made an excellent record.

Miss Avis Preston gave a surprise travelling shower on Tuesday evening complimentary to Miss Hilda Caley who leaves on Monday for Cleveland, O., in company with her sister Maybelle. A miniature trunk was presented, containing many useful gifts for the journey. The guests included Misses Ethel Powell, Marian Decker, Verna Tribble, Hilda and Maybelle Caley, Laura McDaniel, Gertrude Cook, Mmes. C. L. Twycross, M. H. Clark, R. R. Hartman, Wm. Dennison and Geo. J. Beck.

WOMAN'S CLUB HOLDS
CLOSING SESSION

Growth in all activities were shown by the year's reports at the well attended meeting of the Woman's Club on Monday the final session of the club year.

Officers, board members and committee heads told of the variety of work done and it was an impressive showing.

The year's success is attributed largely to the untiring efforts of the president, Mrs. W.E.
Walker. She has won the warm admiration and affection of club members by her unflinching patience and the breadth of view with which she handled the varied problems of the year. The club members feel most fortunate that she has consented to accept the presidency for another year. She has been well supported by the other officers and directors who for the most part,
will serve again next year.

A delightful musical program
was given by Mrs. J. N. Hawks, Miss Frances Webster and Miss Nina Kellogg. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mmes. Mitchell, Rhodes and Bassett.

Camouflage Party
Don't forget the "Camouflage Party" next Monday evening. A good time is in store. A number of prizes are being arranged.
Awards will be made for the best camouflage, also for two "spot" dances. Dancing will commence at nine and continue till twelve.

CLUB WOMEN AID
FURLOUGH HOUSES

Taking part in a nation-wide campaign of club women to raise $2,000,000 for the Furrough houses for soldiers on leave in France, Sierra Madre club women are endeavoring to raise at least the equivalent of $1 per capita. The Woman's club has put the canvass in the hands of Mmes. F. C. Wright, Robert Mitchell and Minnie Kimball who secured $18 in the first day's work. Contributions are limited to a dollar.

Furlough houses in France occupy a place in the life of the soldier which is not filled by the Y. M. C. A. or any other agency.

CHURCH TO BE OPEN

the Ascension (Episcopal) will observe twelve o'clock each day for a few moments' special prayer for a blessing on the Allied armies and for their victory.
There will be no set form of

SUGAR AND WHEAT
SITUATION SERIOUS

Food Administration Urges Rigid Conservation of Both These Commodities as a Patriotic Duty

Every ounce of sugar must be saved
in California to forestall a shortage and insure sufficient for canning and preserving. The recent submarine activities off the Atlantic coast destroyed many millions of pounds of sugar, and because of this it has been found necessary by the U. S. Food Administration to rigidly check sugar purchases and see to it that there is no hoarding or waste.

Sugar now ranks with wheat in the necessity for rigid conservation.
The housewife will be permitted to secure the necessary sugar for home canning and preserving but she can only secure such a supply by signing
a statement agreeing to use her purchase for the specific purpose of canning foodstuffs. These statements will be immediately forwarded to the U. S. Food Administration at San Francisco where they will be checked.
If it is then found that any person has made half a dozen purchases of sugar from different stores she will be called upon to prove that she intended using this for canning purposes.
If she cannot do this it will constitute a violation of the hoarding law.
The Food Administration takes the view that sugar purchased for canning and then used for table or cooking purposes constitutes hoarding
which is a penitentiary offense.

Plans are also under way to further curtail the use of sugar by non-essential manufacturers and hotels and restaurants will probably be placed on a certificate basis.

All grocery stores have been notified that until further notice no more than two pounds of sugar may be sold at any one purchase to city residents and not more than five pounds per sale to people residing in the country districts.

The Food Administration urges everyone to rigidly observe the voluntary consumption rules which provide that not more than three pounds of sugar per person per month should be used. This does not include sugar for canning or preserving, however,
but applies only to that used for cooking and the table.

VEGETABLE HINTS.

Try steaming green vegetables instead of boiling them.

Soak wilted vegetables in cold water until they are crisp and fresh.

Soak celery and cabbage for 15 or 20 minutes before using so that any insects or worms will come out.

The French like peas cooked in lettuce leaves in the top of a double boiler or laid in lettuce leaves in the top of a strainer. Sometimes, too, they add a parsley leaf or a mint leaf to peas in the cooking to give them flavor,
but the plain flavor of well cooked green peas is very pleasing without any additions.

Cook beets, carrots and parsnips before peeling. The skin comes off after cooking in a very economical and easy way.

Potatoes, too, may well be cooked in their jackets.
To remove the skins of tomatoes,
dip them into a pan of boiling water,
then chill. The skins can then be easily removed.

If you boil your vegetables, never boil away the water in which they were cooked. It contains valuable material. Use it as the basis of a soup.
Radishes, red or white, when a little too old to be eaten raw, may be cooked like turnips and served.
Beet tops are one of the most delicious of greens.

PROSECUTION OF ENGLISH FOOD
LAW VIOLATORS.

Profiteers, hoarders, and others who violate the law are dealt with in a severe manner by the English food authorities. The following prosecutions, which have been selected at random
from a long list in the National Food Journal, issued by the English Ministry of Food, show the drastic methods of dealing with those who have only selfish ends in view.

"Morris Cash, of Thames, summoned for selling margarine above the maximum price, was sentenced to prison for six weeks and fined $250 and costs. This action was taken as a result of his reply to a complaint that was made: 'It is my shop, my margarine, and I shall do what I like with it.' The magistrate stated that at the present time tradesmen were simply trustees of public property.

"Joseph Luffman of North London, was fined $105 for selling a rabbit at 10 pence a pound, which was in excess of its market value.

"The president of the Nottingham Grocers' Association, A. B. Gibson, was fined $250 with $50 costs, for profiteering in the sale of butter.

"J. C. Robertson, deputy general manager of Parr's Bank, was fined $300 with $180 costs for having in his possession for the use of himself and five other persons in his household, 95
pounds of sugar, 161 pounds of flour, 55 pounds of rice, 42 pounds of malasses, 45 pounds of biscuits, 9 pound-of margarine, and 100 pounds of oat meal. In addition to the fine and costs, an order was given for the confiscation of surplus goods over the necessary four weeks' requirements
for his household.

FOURTH OF JULY
AT ARCADIA FIELD*Big Event with Soldiers and Air Craft Taking Part at the Balloon School

With balloon races, aeroplane exhibitions and athletic contests between picked men from the reservation as special attractions, Arcadia is preparing to celebrate the Fourth of July and offer visitors opportunity to see the great $400,000 balloon school now in course of construction. The public is cordially invited. This will be the only chance to visit the big balloon school as it will remain closed thereafter except to persons who have business inside.

The force of men who are to put up the largest balloon school in America are at work and the camp will be a busy place for weeks to come. But the Fourth is to be a holiday. On that day half a dozen aeroplanes will be there, with the balloons to contribute to the entertainment. All kinds of sport are promised, including parachute leaps from the balloons. There are a great many fine athletes among the soldiers and they will take part in the contests. Events will begin at ten and continue until late in the afternoon.

OFFICIAL FOOD
NEWS

Issued by
U. S. Food Administration for California

By HERBERT HOOVER

California has sent a host of fine, strong, clean lads to our Army and Navy. Some are in the front line trenches now and they all will have had their turn in the next few months.

There is a great army of young patriots left in California, ready to line up as a strong reserve in the second line trenches. Every army has to have its reserves—reserves of men, reserves of food, reserves of ammunition. Every child in the public schools in California can be a food soldier. He can stand in line, shoulder to shoulder with all the others, with firm intent to produce food and to conserve food, so that the reserve of food for their big brothers and their fathers in the front line trenches will be always ready in France when needed.

The country has had cause to be glad that so many of its young people have already received instruction in conservation of food and clothing and loyalty of act and thought. A great deal has been done, but it is undoubtedly true that a great deal more can be done, and if every person acts as an able and aggressive officer in this army of the second line, there is no reason why wonderful California with its wheat and its fruit, should not lead the Union in increase of production and conservation, and decrease of consumption. Is the cause not great enough? Is the result not worth while? The Food Administration looks to you for support and loyalty.

AN EXCELLENT WHEAT SUB-STITUTE.

Barley is a palatable, wholesome grain which has long been used in infant feeding and, to some extent, for general cooking, and which can now be used in quantity to save wheat. Barley flour is one of the best of the wheat substitutes. Delicious breads and cakes can be made by using it to replace all or part of the wheat flour.

The use of barley flour for such purposes, though new to most of us, is not new to some people. Not many years ago barley was used more extensively than wheat for bread making in many of the European countries. Let us revive the art of barley cooking and by so doing, "stretch" our supply of wheat flour so that it may go further to meet the needs of the allies.

Hundreds of millions of bushels of barley are raised yearly in the United States. This supply heretofore has been used chiefly for stock feed or for malting, but under present conditions the greater part of the crop is being milled into flour which, since it is both palatable and nutritious, may well be used to meet the increasing demand for wheat substitutes. This flour is now on the market, and it is a patriotic duty to use it to save the wheat flour.

Give barley flour a trial; you will wonder why it was not used more before the war.

Barley flour does not keep so well as wheat flour, so it is best to buy it in small quantities, even for home consumption.

A BUSHEL MEANS A SOLDIER.

Do you know that every bushel of wheat now saved means the support of a soldier on the battle line until the next harvest? As no soldier can live without food, every bushel of wheat is the actual equivalent of a fighting unit. The moral is clear. We must supply soldiers. But it is useless to supply the fighters themselves unless we can also supply the where-withal upon which the soldier lives. The number of men we can put in the field is in direct relation to the number of men we can feed in the field. Will you support a soldier until the next harvest?

THE BANK IS SOLVENT.

The United States Food Administration is the food bank of the Nation. In commercial affairs you put your money in the bank knowing that the multiplication of many small accounts gives stability and makes possible larger transactions in the world of business than could be handled with any small fund. No depositor expects to see his money all the time. It is sufficient to know that it is in good company, in other words, that the bank is solvent. Wheat is in very much the same situation as money in the world today. Large transactions are necessary if the world war is to be fought to a successful conclusion for ourselves and the Allies, and yet these large transactions must be based upon the multiplied savings of millions of people. Each one can deposit in the general store only a small amount. What is very important is for every saver of wheat to know that the Food Administration is protecting his interests, that sufficient reserves will always be kept to guarantee the support of American citizens. This knowledge begets confidence, and confidence eliminates hoarding and "runs" on the bank. The Food Administration is your food bank, and it is solvent.

"We are all comrades in a great enterprise."—Woodrow Wilson.

EDITORS CONGREGATE ON THE MAGIC ISLE

just around Sugar Loaf point from Avalon. It will be an important addition to California's list of high class hotels.

There were never so many children on an outing of the editorial association, and the little ones never had a better chance for enjoyment. The safe beach without surf or undertow is a place of never ending delight, as the daughter of the News family discovered.

Charming Auto Trips

Autos are scarce on the island, there being no occasion to use them except for delivery purposes and to replace the picturesque tallyho stages. Manager Green of the auto stage line takes passengers to the summit of the island where a wonderful panorama of ocean and mountain is presented, and also to the beautiful Middle Ranch.

During their stay on the island the scribes enjoyed many courtesies at the hands of editor Winkle of the Iskander, and also from Mr. and Mrs. Lefavor, who were formerly members of the association.

GOVERNOR MAKES PATRIOTIC ADDRESS

Governor Stephens made an admirable appeal in behalf of the War Savings campaign and unified effort in all lines for the winning of the war at the annual lawn picnic of the Congregational church last Saturday night. The governor's presence was a potent factor in drawing the large crowd which filled the grounds at the Essick home. It was not an effort at studied oratory but a heart to heart talk as between friends and many people enjoyed the opportunity to meet the state's chief executive. The varied entertainment program in addition made it a most enjoyable occasion.

JAMES B. BROOKS IS CALLED TO REST

James B. Brooks of East Central Avenue passed away Thursday morning after a long illness with heart trouble. He was 72 years of age and a native of Lancashire, England. He came to this country in 1888 and to California about fourteen years ago, having resided in Sierra Madre about half the time since. Mr. Brooks is survived by his wife and by one son, Charles Brooks. He was a faithful member of the Plymouth Brethren. Funeral services will be held on Sunday at three o'clock in the undertaking parlors of A. T. Ga. Interment will be made at the Sierra Madre cemetery.
